Nell & Key

A little wonder.
A world to discover.

A STORY FOR PARENTS

A story that starts with your child.

A favourite game. A question they keep asking. A place where math gets stuck. We begin there.

Written for your child and checked by code and judges before they play. Our team reviews what they played.

Chapter I

First, a conversation.

Tell Akshat what your child loves and where math sticks. Together, plan a place to begin. Nothing is charged before the call.

Chapter II

Their world becomes a mission.

A sport, a game or a kitchen question becomes a way into math. Your child predicts, tries and explains what happened.

Chapter III

A tutor stays beside them.

One-to-one time to notice a small gap, ask why and try again. What the tutor sees helps shape the next mission.

Chapter IV

Their ideas become a Book.

Each mission adds a page to your child's Book. Open it together to see what they tried, discovered and can explain.

Designed for Ages 6 to 14

At your child's level, not their grade. Your tutor plans the week with them and builds the habits strong students have: notice, try, ask why.
